COGNITIVE SUPPORT

Your guide to natural brain
and cognitive support

Natural brain support

It can be worrying to see older pets experiencing cognitive decline, but we are here to help.

As your pet ages, changes occur across their body. Their coat may start to grey, their joints may become stiff, their hearing and sight may worsen, and their cognitive function may decline. It's often the last which can be one of the most distressing for dogs and their owners.

While cognitive decline occurs in all pets as they age, the decline will be accelerated in some. This is often termed canine cognitive dysfunction syndrome (CCD), or 'doggy dementia', and is surprisingly common - thought to affect nearly 1 in 3 dogs over the age of 11.

Some signs of cognitive decline include:

- Memory loss (forgetting commands)
- Restlessness and agitation (pacing)
- Disorientation and confusion
- House-soiling
- Altered behaviour (possible aggression)
- Altered sleep patterns
- Increased barking
- Change in appetite

BrainCopa® can help to support your pet through cognitive decline, alongside other factors like: keeping to a routine, avoiding sudden changes and making your home easy for your pet to navigate.

The unique and powerful formulation helps to keep your pet's mind agile by promoting normal brain and mental function with a range of scientifically proven natural ingredients, including:

Bacopa monnieri - a herb long used in Ayurvedic medicine as a 'brain tonic' and powerful antioxidant to support the central nervous system, memory and cognitive function.

DHA powder - shown to support cognitive function in older dogs as vital for brain development and ongoing function, also well-tolerated and readily absorbed.

The unique formulation also includes: lemon balm, traditionally used to aid those with sleep disturbances, ginkgo biloba, used in traditional Chinese medicine as rich in anti-oxidants, and Vitamin E, helping to support optimal memory and aiding DHA uptake in the brain. BrainCopa® provides targeted multi-action support, to help keep your dog mentally agile well into their golden years.
